Shurgard opens new self-storage facility in the Netherlands, The Hague region (Zoetermeer)

LUXEMBOURG – Shurgard, the largest developer, owner and operator of self-storage centers in Europe – is pleased to announce the opening of its new self-storage facility on July 22, 2021, in Zoetermeer (The Hague region, Randstad).

The new property was re-built after a fire in a neighboring building destroyed Shurgard Zoetermeer Industrieweg on January 1, 2020.

The c. 4,000 sqm two-storey building will offer over 850 self-storage units to the Zoetermeer area.

With a wide variety of storage units from 1.5 to 22 square meter units, Shurgard is serving both individuals and businesses in the area as well.

The store also includes many sustainability features already present in our other properties, like energy-efficient elevators and HVAC systems, motion sensor systems, LED lighting and low-flow taps to minimize water consumption.

Shurgard currently operates 62 convenient storage locations across The Netherlands - representing over 300,000 net rentable square meters. 20 of these properties are located in the South Holland Province (Rotterdam, The Hague, Delft...). This presence has made Shurgard the preferred self-storage provider for local residents but also for businesses looking for local or network solutions.
